

Visiting 18 cities: HSMAI Europe Revenue Management Workshop and Global Revenue Management Certification (CRME)

The more you know, and the more you can prove you know, the better ROI you can provide to your employer or prospective employer, the more you can improve your company's bottom line, and the better you can position yourself in your chosen discipline.

HSMAI in America introduced certification for sales professionals nearly thirty years ago. Today HSMAI offers training and certification in several disciplines and HSMAI now also offer global certification in Revenue Management.

“Bringing the CRME certification to Europe is a fantastic opportunity for Revenue Leaders in Europe to obtain a globally recognized certification in Revenue Management and confirms HSMAI's objective to be a key resource for education, knowledge and interchange in hospitality” says Christian Boerger, Chairman HSMAI Europe Revenue Management Advisory Board
